AIDS IN AFRICA

“All this stuff about AIDS is just a means to promote the white man’s business interest. As everyone knows, condoms really had no market until the AIDS zombie was invented. I don’t know anyone who died of AIDS but of people who died of childbirth complications, tuberculosis and malaria. I am saying AIDS is a fiction all the more since, in my village, when a person from a poor family dies, it's attributed to AIDS, but when death occurs in a wealthy family, it's said to be witchcraft” Pathé said.

Though the pandemic of the HIV virus looms large in Africa, numerous illiterate people harbour such views and even think that an infected person can heal himself by having sexual intercourse with a virgin. The outcome of these unscrupulous thinkings is that Aids explodes throughout the continent like a volcano ravaging people’s lives and ruining their destinies. (...)

(...) The need for efficient measures should lead the African authorities to castigate the criminal behaviour of some people who, knowing fully well they are infected with HIV / AIDS, go around spreading the disease that is death to young innocent victims under the pretext of reckless arguments such as “I don’t want to die alone”. In this regard, they should invite the medical community to initiate ethical discussions towards lifting the medical confidentiality whenever a person who is fully aware that he is infected with AIDS eagerly contaminates others, for stories of positive HIV carriers transmitting the virus to others abound in the continent. (...)

(...) The AIDS peril is now corroding the continent. Even the economy is being eaten by it. The workforce is weakened, job creation is compromised, profitability is reduced and development efforts imperilled. Families are blown away and tragically, it is the children who shoulder the burden. All over the continent, thousands of kids have to grow up without daddy or mummy. To lose one or both parents is to face a childhood of suffering and pain. That's why they end up suffering neglect at the hands of guardians of the community.
